

CIRCUMSTANCE DOES NOT MAKE THE MAN

2019 has brought new circumstances in health & business.
Here's an update on all fronts:

- James Allen, As a Man Thinketh

HEALTH

On February 14th I was diagnosed with Multiple Myeloma. The diagnosis was a shock but it was caught extremely early and I have excellent doctors and support. Thank you to all of my colleagues, family, and friends for your kindness and prayers. My doctors are very positive about my prognosis and the possibility of a cure in the coming years. I have completed my second round of chemo, continue to feel great (crush the peloton), and work full time. I don't understand why I have Myeloma but I am determined to beat it, live my life, and not let it define me.

BUSINESS

We hired a new employee early this year... Jansen Henderson has joined the Bespoke family with vast experience in property management and book keeping. We are excited to have her join our team and add value to our growing fund!

Jansen is a CSU graduate with a degree in Business and Finance. She has managed commercial real estate properties for 15 years. Jansen enjoys juggling the many balls that property management throws at her! She lives in Evergreen with her two kids and husband. They enjoy spending time together and all things outdoors. Jansen is very excited to join the Bespoke team!
